

etwist

Electronic newsletter from The Cleveland Dickens Fellowship

<https://www.clevelanddickensfellowship.org/>

Fall Calendar

Meetings scheduled for second
Saturday of the month, 11 am to 1 pm:

Sat. December 14, 11 to 1

No January meeting

Sat. Feb. 8, 11 to 1

All at Beachwood County Library, B.

Editor:

k.schuerger@outlook.com

- Come to our December meeting ready to take a role from the first half of our novel of the year, David Copperfield.
- Loganberry Books' celebration includes Bill Claspy talking about Dickens—Saturday, Dec. 7, about 1:00 pm.
- Charles Dickens Museum schedules holiday blockbusters.
- On Fellowship site, find “General Interest.” An opera?
- Membership dues $40.00. Please bring or mail check to Anne Meissner.
- Skip January (Cleveland weather). At February's meeting we explore how much of DC is autobiographical.

We meet Sat. December 14, 11 am at the Beachwood County Library, Rm. B, to celebrate the holiday. Bring (or don't) anything you'd like to share, sweet or savory. For this last meeting of 2024 Charla will assign roles for a brief theatrical scene. She'll bring a script, so get ready to enjoy “David meets Aunt Betsey.”

Saturday, Dec. 7, Loganberry Books celebrates 30 years on Larchmere and Bill Claspy talks about Dickens in America.

<https://www.loganberrybooks.com/events/>

Gaze longingly at holidays in London at Dickens Museum.

Here's a link to events during the holiday season. What a menu!

<https://dickensmuseum.com/blogs/all-events?srsltid=AfmBOoqFKL2G8WoDA-z1LZCfGdK5tlyYI5xm021K8eAMEoWLgXVA0Haq>

Visit Headquarters's website: "General Interest".

Follow the link. See anything new?

<https://dickensfellowship.org/index.php/central-fellowship-news>

Had you heard of the new play about CD's Christmas Eve? Or the opera of The Signalman? It pays to check the website once in a while.

Enjoy a YouTube treat:

Dickens Christmas Fair and Victorian Holiday Party worth setting aside a little time to watch.

<https://images.app.goo.gl/aHz8JGm26bY5vLwy8>

They're not obligatory, but, boy, do we need your membership dues this year!

We need to pay our webmaster, fees for technical advances so we can remain relevant, fees for speakers, for printing more bookmarks, expenses for social gatherings. And how we would love a meeting Owl so we can open Zoom discussions at meetings to everyone.

Please send a check for $40.00 to Anne Meissner, our new treasurer. Make it out to Cleveland Dickens Fellowship. Mail to Anne at 3512 Woodridge Road, Cleveland Heights, OH 44121.

Or better yet, bring it to a meeting. Additional contributions welcome.

Enjoy December's meeting, skip January, don't miss February.